

THE CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING AND MODERN SLAVERY PRESENTS

March 2021 Lunch and Learn Series

Human Trafficking in the Fishing Industry: Outlaw Ocean with Ian Urbina

MARCH 1

12:00PM - 1:00PM

TINYURL.COM/
HTMS-MARCH-1

Join us for Ian Urbina's gripping account of modern slavery in the fishing industry. The Outlaw Ocean series was originally published in The New York Times, where he has been an investigative reporter for over two decades. Hear firsthand about Ian's experiences at sea witnessing human trafficking and other atrocities on fishing vessels.

Human Trafficking in the Fishing Industry II: Reporting by DOJ's Taskforce on Human Trafficking

MARCH 9

12:00PM - 1:00PM

TINYURL.COM/
HTMS-MARCH-9

Karen Stauss, Senior Policy Counsel with the Human Trafficking Prosecution Unit at the Department of Justice will be discussing the government's commitment to confronting the problem of forced labor on fishing vessels. She will highlight findings from a new report issued by the Task Force on Human Trafficking in Fishing in International Waters.

Conscious Consumers: Customs and Border Protection's Role in Preventing Importation of Goods Made with Forced Labor

MARCH 29

12:00PM - 1:00PM

TINYURL.COM/
HTMS-MARCH-29

Join us for a discussion about forced labor in global supply chains and learn how to be a more conscious consumer. Therese Randazzo, Director of the Forced Labor Division, Office of Trade, U.S. Customs and Border Protection, will share the steps being taken to identify imports produced by forced labor and stop them from entering the country.

This event is also being livestreamed on the UCF Global YouTube channel. This is an open forum, all are welcome to attend.

SUBMIT QUESTIONS BEFOREHAND AT: TINYURL.COM/HTMS-MARCH-QUESTIONS